PRÓLOGO

ADOLFO DÍAZ-BAUTISTA CREMADES

En el año 2006, al amparo de un proyecto de investigación patrocinado por la Fundación Séneca de la Región de Murcia<sup>1</sup>, un equipo de investigadores dirigido por nuestro Maestro, Antonio Díaz Bautista, inició una serie de investigaciones en torno a la producción legislativa del emperador Diocleciano. La tarea fue más ardua de lo esperado, no sólo por el elevadísimo número de fragmentos analizados, más de mil ochocientos, sino por la gran complejidad técnica de muchos de ellos. Fruto de tal investigación fue la publicación de un Conspectus constitutionum Diocletianae<sup>2</sup> en el que, de forma resumida, se hace referencia a todas las disposiciones jurídicas emanadas de la Cancillería de Diocleciano y Maximiano, agrupándolas por sedes temáticas, así como de una recopilación de trabajos en torno a la legislación diocleciana<sup>3</sup> presentados en los Congresos de la Société Internationale 'Ferdinand de Visscher' pour l'étude des Droits de l'Antiquité (SIHDA) celebrados en Catania (Italia) y Fribourg (Suiza) en los años 2007 y 2008, y en los de la Sociedad Iberoamericana de Derecho Romano (AIDROM) que tuvieron lugar en Toledo y Lisboa en 2008 y 2009, junto con las aportaciones recibidas en el Seminario sobre Derecho Diocleciano, celebrado en Murcia, en diciembre de 2008. Del mismo modo, una aproximación al estudio formal de los rescriptos de la Tetrarquía nos permitió publicar una base de datos bilingüe sobre legislación de Diocleciano<sup>4</sup>, todo lo cual sirve de precedente para la presente publicación.

El emperador Cayo Aurelio Valerio Diocleciano Augusto es un odiado personaje histórico, cuya funesta fama procede, principalmente, de la gran persecución que desplegó contra cristianos, maniqueos, alquimistas, matemáticos, cabalistas, etc. Además, el sistema político que instauró, transformó el caduco principado romano en una monarquía absoluta, a imagen de los imperios orientales. En cierto sentido, se puede sostener que, a partir del siglo IV el imperio era bastante menos “romano”. Como escribiría el profesor Díaz Bautista, la vasta producción legislativa de la tetrarquía posee un interés particular para el estudio científico del Derecho de la antigüedad, ya que, en un entorno social muy alejado de las formas republicanas, la Cancillería insiste en aplicar un Derecho bastante cercano al de los juristas clásicos. La doctrina suele afirmar que Diocleciano, en materia de técnica jurídica, ya no es un “clásico” sino un “clasicista”, frente a solicitudes que, con frecuencia, manifestaban una tendencia abiertamente helenizante. Pero esta afirmación no debe entenderse en el sentido de que sus decisiones jurídicas no sean clásicas, sino más bien que se inscriben en un contexto social abiertamente post-clásico. La misma reforma política de este emperador, iniciador del Dominado, está ya muy alejada del marco político y económico en que se había desarrollado el Derecho Romano clásico. La Cancillería de los Tetrarcas parece cumplir un empeño, diríamos “romántico” por mantener un admirable edificio conceptual condenado a la ruina, porque sus cimientos políticos y sociales habían cambiado profundamente. Sólo así se explica que la producción normativa de sus sucesores, pocos años después, fuese tan diferente a la suya, en el fondo y en la forma.

El punto de partida, como en los precedentes trabajos de esta serie, han sido los textos contenidos en la base de datos BIA<sup>5</sup>, que recoge la undécima edición del Codex Justinianus de Paul Krüger (Berlín 1954), así como las constituciones de la tetrarquía tomadas de la Collatio.

La finalidad de este trabajo es ofrecer a los investigadores un catálogo de términos utilizados por la cancillería imperial, indicando los textos en que aparecen utilizados. Para ello se realizó un primer tratamiento informático de los textos<sup>6</sup>, que nos permitió aislar, de manera automática el cuerpo de cada rescripto y ordenar alfabéticamente los términos usados en los mismos. El resto del procesamiento ha sido realizado manualmente por los Autores, lo que sin duda, y a pesar de las escrupulosas revisiones, habrá permitido la presencia de errores.

Se han eliminado, por no ser relevantes para nuestro estudio, las preposiciones y conjunciones. El resto de términos se ha agrupado, siguiendo la norma admitida, bajo los siguientes criterios:

- Verbos: Primera persona del singular del presente de indicativo, incluyendo los participios, gerundios y gerundivos.
- Sustantivos: Nominativo singular.
- Adjetivos: Nominativo, singular del género masculino.

Se excluyen de tal norma, obviamente, aquellos términos defectivos que

carecen de las formas indicadas.

Los adverbios, por su parte, y otras formas indeclinables, se han dejado tal cual aparecen en el texto. Los adverbios deadjetivales se han mantenido junto al resto de formas del adjetivo (como "caste", dentro de "castum"), y determinados participios cuya lexicalización les ha llevado hacia un uso más adjetivo, reciben una entrada aparte (como es el caso de "cautus" --- originalmente de "caveo").

En algunos casos hemos encontrado un mismo término escrito de modos distintos, lo cual bien puede proceder de defectos en la transmisión de los textos o bien reflejar las distintas autorías de los rescriptos. Siempre que ha sido posible, hemos tratado de agrupar los términos bajo la forma más común en latín clásico.

Del mismo modo, hemos tratado de aunar, bajo una sola voz (nombres propios) los nombres que aparecían identificados en el texto; hemos entendido que de este modo se facilita mejor el uso del trabajo en futuras investigaciones.

Uno de los problemas a que nos hemos enfrentado es la imposibilidad de modificar el texto originario, eso nos ha llevado a problemas menores, como no poder eliminar todas las enclíticas -que y -ne, y a otros de mayor calado, como es el no haber podido desambiguar las palabras homófonas, que han sido agrupadas bajo una sola voz pese a tener significados diferentes. En estos casos hemos tratado, al menos, de asignar los términos siempre a la raíz más probable o frecuente.

Como queda dicho más arriba, la finalidad de nuestro trabajo no es realizar un estudio filológico sino ofrecer una herramienta interesante al investigador, particularmente jurista, que le permita localizar, con rapidez, la frecuencia de aparición de determinadas palabras en la legislación diocleciana. El esfuerzo realizado, pese a tratarse de un trabajo poco creativo, ha sido enorme. El equipo de Autores ha tenido que comprobar y decidir la adscripción de cada término a las raíces establecidas, para lo cual, el asesoramiento filológico de Nacho Ataz Beaussier<sup>7</sup> e histórico de la Profesora Cremades Griñán<sup>8</sup>, ha sido de capital importancia.

Queda pues, tan sólo, lanzar al lector el fruto de nuestro trabajo, con la esperanza de que sea una útil para la investigación de un periodo apasionante de nuestra Historia legislativa, y que sepa ser indulgente con las faltas que, sin duda, y a pesar de las sucesivas revisiones efectuadas, encontrará en la obra.
